SOUTH-CAROLINA.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, May 30, 1773.

WHEREAS his Majeſty, by his Order in Council, dated at St. James's, the 7th Day of April, 1773, has been pleaſed to ſignify, that having taken into his Royal Conſideration, the Juſtice and Expediency of ſubjecting the Grantees of Lands in his Colonies and Plantations in America, to other Conditions than thoſe at preſent preſcribed in the Inſtructions given to his Majeſty's Governors in the ſaid Plantations; and that the Authority for granting Lands, contained in the Commiſſions and Inſtructions given to his Majeſty's ſaid Governors, ſhould be further regulated and reſtrained: And that, he had therefore been pleaſed to order that, the Lords Commiſſioners for Trade and Plantations, ſhould take into their immediate Conſideration, the Powers and Authorities contained in the ſaid Commiſſions and Inſtructions, and repreſent unto his Majeſty ſuch Alterations as they ſhall think fit and neceſſary to be made therein; and that it was his Royal Will and Pleaſure, that in the mean Time, and until his Majeſty's further Pleaſure ſhould be ſignified, that no Warrant of Survey for Land ſhould iſſue, nor any Patent for Land paſs, unleſs to ſuch Commiſſion or Non-Commiſſion Officer or Soldier, as are intitled to Grants for Lands, by Virtue of his Majeſty's Royal Proclamation, dated the 7th Day of October, 1763: I do hereby give public Notice thereof, to all whom it may Concern.

By Order of his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, JAMES SIMPSON.

WHEREAS, on Sunday the 20th of September inſtant, very early in the morning, the firſt time, and on Sunday the 26th, about 7 o'clock in the evening, the ſecond time, the ſubſcriber's fence and gate on the road ſide, was wantonly and maliciouſly pulled down and broke to pieces, to his great detriment and loſs, by cattle and horſes getting in and deſtroying of what was in the ſaid garden. This is therefore to offer a reward of FIFTY POUNDS currency, to any perſon who will inform of the offender or offenders, on conviction of the ſame.

The ſubſcriber alſo informs all perſons, that the gate way oppoſite the new barracks is ſloped up, and that the fence and ditch leading down to the ſame, from the road to the marſh oppoſite Mr. Cannon's is made up, and that there is no road or foot-way acroſs his paſture, of which all gentlemen will pleaſe to take this notice, and not to break down the ſaid ditch and fence, to his [illegible] inſufferable, [illegible] diſagreeable [illegible].

LONDON, July 31.

A Letter from Paris, dated July 11, says, "the Count Valdera is just arrived here in quality of Ambassador from the Empress of Russia. He cuts a most splendid appearance, having thirty servants in his train, and is said to be come here on a very important commission."

It is now confidently reported, in several parts of Germany, that the Empress Queen proposes to imitate her illustrious and renowned predecessor, Charles the Fifth, and retire into a convent, in order to spend the remainder of her days in tranquility and retirement. Other motives, however, besides those of religion, are assigned for this very extraordinary resolution.

July 28. Yesterday the Earl of Sandwich attended the lords at St. James's, after being absent for six weeks, in making a survey of the royal navy in the different dock-yards at Portsmouth, Plymouth, Chatham, and Sheerness, and laid before his Majesty the state and condition of each.

They write from Cadiz, that great heats at present subsist between the Dutch and Spaniards in the West-Indies, on account of the illegal trade carried on by the former to his Catholic Majesty's American provinces, to the great prejudice of the Royal Havannah Company. Three Dutch sloops from St. Eustatia, have been seized and carried into Donna Maria Bay, in Hispaniola.

A gentleman just returned from Naples, informs us, that the eruptions of Vesuvius have recommenced; that some English travellers endeavoured to ascend the summit of that mountain, which they had scarcely reached, when a great quantity of stones, and inflammatory matter, issued from the mouth of the Volcano with great impetuosity, and two of the travellers were terribly wounded.

A few days ago died at Padiham, near Colne, Lancashire, of a cancer in her throat, one Sarah Sharroch, above 50 years of age, whose tongue drop't out of her mouth into her own hand, about 12 days before she died.

July 24. Letters from St. Malo's mention, that on the 10th inst. they had a most violent storm of thunder, lightning, and rain, which did a great deal of damage to the houses in the city, and to the parts adjacent, destroying all the fruits, and several persons were struck dead by the lightning, as were many of their cattle; that there was likewise a great deal of damage done to the shipping on that coast. Pieces of wrecks and dead bodies are daily thrown on shore.

We hear from Kirkwall, in Scotland, that a whale of an enormous bulk was lately stranded there; and on being cut up, the skeleton of a man was found in his stomach; the bones were soft like wax, and yielded to the slightest impression.

The last resolution of the General Court of East-India Proprietors, relating to negating the command of their forces to Lieutenant General Clavering, has not a little posed the Premier. The resolution, however, formed by him in this emergency is this. Seeing that even the authority of the King and Privy Council cannot operate in the General's favour, the Judges, and other officers lately appointed to go out to India, and who were to have sailed the beginning of October next, are now to wait till the middle of November, by which time the Parliament will be assembled, and the first business they go on, will be to make an act declaratory of their former resolution, appointing Lieutenant General Clavering commander in chief of the East-India Company's forces in India.

Extract of a letter from Constantinople, June 17.

"We have just received the advice here of the Russians having possessed themselves of all the places in the Morea, except the province of Belvedere, which still remains entirely with the Turks. The other provinces of Romania, Minou, and Zsehonia, or Buacchio de Mana, with the Dutchy of Clarenza, are all subjected to the Muscovites, and the Greeks in general own the sovereignty of the Emperors of Russia. The Turks are strongly fortifying Mondon, Corone, and all the other places of importance in Belvedere, but more especially Navarina, where they have a formidable fleet of ships of war and gallies lying in the harbour."

Yesterday a man who goes by the name of a Driver, and belongs to a coal-wharf, eat five pounds and a half of beef stakes, and two large bunches of onions, fried, at an alehouse in Holborn, and drank two pots of porter, for a trifling wager. His dinner is generally three pounds of solid meat, and one pot of porter, without breakfast or supper.

July 26. On Wednesday last a yacht of about seventy tons burthen, on an entire new construction, was launched at Deptford. The concourse of people that attended the launch of this extraordinary vessel, exceeded any that had been known before, among whom were his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, and many of the nobility and gentry. As this yacht is allowed to be the handsomest that ever was seen, the sight was very pleasing, and gave universal satisfaction. She is said to be wholly designed by Earl Ferrers, and built for his use by way of experiment, and that his Lordship declares she will sail faster than any vessel that ever was built. As we are informed that the noble Lord above mentioned has made naval architecture his study for near thirty years, and reduced every part of that art to mathematical certainty, it may be expected, not only that she will sail faster than any thing yet built, but also that she will answer every purpose than can be desired of such a vessel. If his Lordship succeeds, the public need not be apprised of what infinite consequence it must be to the nation.

July 27. By the last accounts from Paris we learn, that even the diversions of the chase have no longer any charms for the French monarch. His health daily decreases, and nothing but distrust, jealousy, and repeated alarms, at present reign in the cabinet.

Saturday about six o'clock in the afternoon, the remains of Lord Tyrawley were privately interred in the burying ground at Chelsea; the pensioners that attended the procession had half a crown a piece given them, which they gratefully accepted of.

By a gentlemen just arrived from Dublin, we are informed, that the government of Ireland are in the greatest dilemma possible about the raising 200,000l. for the immediate expences of the nation, the money not being to be had there upon any terms. The Secretary was dispatched some time since here to raise it; but, alas! in vain; for our treasury boards are quite dry. The people, to whom large arrears are due on the other side of the water, hearing this, are little less than mutinous, particularly the army; one regiment of which, upon getting orders to prepare for country quarters, appeared, every man of them on the Parade, without his musket, or any one single accoutrement.

We hear that the reversionary government of a neighbouring kingdom has been lately offered to a popular Duke, but his answer was direct, and in these words: "However ineffectual my endeavours may be to oppose a corrupt government, they shall never administer to that corruption."

When the gold coin is so much the general topic of conversation, the following extract on coinage from the celebrated Locke (a man who scarcely ever advanced any proposition but on the soundest consideration) may not be unuseful, particularly as government are certainly serious in making a reform in that act next Session: "Nothing can put a stop to clipping, now it is grown so universal, and men are become so skilful in it, but making it unprofitable;---nothing can make clipping unprofitable, but making all light money go only for its weight.---This stops clipping, filing, and sweating in a moment, brings out all the milled and weighty money, deprives us not of any part of our clipped money for the use of trade, and brings it orderly, and by degrees, and without force, into the Mint to be restored."

July 28. After the King of Prussia had exhausted every common species of exaction in Poland, his fertile genius provided a new and unheard-of method of pillaging. He ordered every village and district subject to his power to furnish a number of young virgins to be sent as proper wives of his troopers. By this means a great many innocent girls were torn from the arms of their dearest relations, and forced to inter-marry with those whom they never saw, and with whom they cannot, for some time at least, exchange language.

The great emigrations that have been made to America by the artificers and small holders of farms in Ireland and Scotland for a great while past, particularly within these few years, occasioned a meeting of the landed gentlemen of those two nations last week at a noted coffee-house in Westminster; when taking into consideration the disagreeable consequences that must proceed from such peregrinations, viz. the depopulation of these countries, and of course the fall of lands, came to a resolution of letting their estates in future in small farms, and at such easy rents as will enable the holders to pay their landlords, and not only enjoy the necessaries, but the conveniencies of life.

July 29. All the industry and indefatigable attention of Mr. Walpole, our Minister at the Court of Lisbon, in order to procure a restoration of the lost rights of the British commerce, have, it is said, proved fruitless; for, instead of the spirit of antient treaty, the English are become, from the most, the least favoured nation, who trade to any part of the Portuguese dominions. The return of the abovementioned gentleman is expected to be early in the month of September; and it is the opinion of most people, who pretend to know any thing of the matter, that no person will be appointed in his room till some very important concessions are made by the Court of Lisbon.

The following provision of the statute of the 8th and 9th of William III. chap. 26, remains unrepealed; it enacts, "That if any person shall take, receive, pay, or put off any counterfeit milled money, or any milled money whatsoever unlawfully diminished, and not cut in pieces, at or for a lower rate or value than the same by its denominations doth or shall import, or was coined or counterfeited for, he shall be guilty of felony. Prosecution to be in three months."

Extract of a letter from Venice, July 2.

"The St. Veit, a ship of war belonging to this Republic, has just arrived here from a cruise in the Archipelago and Adriatic; and brings advice of an engagement off the coast of Epirus between the Russians and the Turks, in which the former were entirely defeated. Six sail of Russian men of war, with some smaller vessels, under the command of Count Radzorffe, an Officer of distinction, were detached from Count Orlow's fleet, to make a descent on the Coast of Epirus; but off the Island of Corfu, fell in with the Turkish fleet, when an engagement ensued, in which two of the Russian ships were taken, one sunk, and one run ashore, near Cassiope, on the above island. The other two made their escape to the harbour of St. Maurea, on the island of the same name."

July 30. It is very confidently reported, that a great personage has declared, "that no more pensions shall be granted on the Irish establishment, either for life or years, without the approbation of a full Privy Council."

Extract of a letter from Vienna, July 7.

"A courier has just arrived with authentic intelligence of the whole of the Russian army having passed the Danube, and encamped on the other side. The troops passed over in three bodies; the main body which was considerably the largest, consisting of the cavalry, artillery, and some of the best regiments of infantry, together with the valuable baggage and stores, were under Count Romanzow; and the other two were under the command of Brigadier General Potemkin, and Lieutenant General Wiesman. The corps under General Potemkin, which consisted of the light troops, was attacked in passing the river, by a detachment from the Grand Vizir's army, but the courageous behaviour of the Russians soon put it to flight."

A proposal has been laid before the Earl of Darrmouth, for abolishing the different forms of government in America, and forming them into one; New-York, as it is centrical, to be the metropolis, and each province to send representatives in the manner of our counties. Some other proposals were made at the same time for promoting a reconciliation, which it is hoped will be attended to.

Captain Lownds, of the Samuel, of Bristol, from New-England to Jamaica, being in want of water, put into the Havanna, but was ordered out immediately, and the water was sent to him. Fifteen ships of the line, and four frigates were in the harbour, the fortifications of which were repairing.

On Tuesday last the workmen concerned in digging for the new dock at Woolwich, threw up a small earthen pot, in which were contained a number of small coin, a few of which were silver, and the inscription of one of them is---OTHO VII. Rex. Sax. Mid.---the date was effaced.

July 31. It is said the Lord Lieutenant and Privy Council of Ireland have issued a proclamation, that no diminished gold coin be received in payment by any persons concerned in collecting the revenues of that kingdom.

A report is very current at the West end of the town, that Thomas Pownall, Esq; Member for Tregony, will be re-appointed Governor of the province of Massachusetts-Bay in New-England.

The officers on furlow belonging to the garison of Gibraltar and Minorca have received orders from the War-office to join their respective corps immediately.

In consequence of the discovery of an infamous correspondence between an American Governor and a British Senator, a deputation from the province is shortly expected, with a strong remonstrance to the Throne, complaining of his treachery, and requesting his immediate removal.

Advice is said to have been this week received, that the Governor of Dunkirk had been ordered to court, in consequence of certain late remonstrances of the English ambassador at Paris.

By a gentleman just returned from Dorset, Devonshire, and Cornwall, we learn, that there is the finest prospect of a plentiful crop of corn ever known, and that the hay harvest had been uncommonly great.

August 2. Last Saturday's Gazette contains abstracts from two Acts of Parliament, to prevent artificers and manufacturers, subjects of Great-Britain, from going into foreign countries to exercise their callings.

The Spanish Minister at the French Court has made a plain demand of effectual assistance against the Barbary powers, who are leagued with the Emperor of Morocco, and the Dey of Algiers.

The rights, privileges, and immunities, of the city of Dantzick, are now farmed from the Court of Berlin, at the moderate rent annually of 50,000l. sterling.

The Sieur De la Land, of the Royal Academy of Sciences at Paris, has announced to the world a remarkable phænomenon. He asserts, that the ring of Saturn will disappear from the 2d of October next to the 23d of January following; and that it will disappear a second time, from the 24th of March next year, to the 11th of July following.

August 3. It was yesterday morning reported upon 'Change, that another attempt has been made on the life of the King of Portugal by a priest, who had drawn a dagger from under his habit to stab, whilst his Majesty was in private conference with him; that his Majesty seeing it drawing, jumped from his seat into the next apartment, where some noblemen were in waiting, who went to seize the villain, but before they got to him he had put an end to his own life with the same dagger.

The King of Denmark has given public notice in all the foreign Gazettes, that his Commissary at Hamburgh will pay the debts due to Danish subjects from Messrs. Cliffords and Co. late merchants at Amsterdam, at the rate of 7000 six-dollars per month, till the whole shall be discharged.

It is said the Court of Versailles, in the last dispatches from London, hath been given to understand, that such French ships as shall hereafter be found with certain species of goods on board at Newfoundland, the Gulph of St. Lawrence or any other of the British coasts in North-America, will be seized and condemned by Court Martials on the spot, without appeal; neither are the subjects of that kingdom to be permitted to purchase ready caught cargoes of fish from those of Great-Britain, without incurring the same penalty.

It is said some fresh disputes are likely to take place between our Court and that of Madrid, grounded on some complaints from West-Florida, relative to the great number of guarda costas within the Cape.

By an authentic letter from Stockholm we learn, that his Swedish Majesty is now encreasing his army, which used to consist of 42,000 men, to the number of 74,000.

The many reports of changes in the law departments are all premature; the only public change at present talked of with any confidence is, Mr. Cornwall's succeeding Sir Fletcher Norton, as Speaker of the House of Commons, who is to retire on a pension.

A few days ago the wife of Mr. Slade, shipwright at Deptford, was delivered of a daughter. It is remarkable that this gentlewoman is the same person, who is not improperly stiled the Female Shipwright; for at the close of the last war, about the year 1759, on account of a love affair, when 15 or 16 years old, she left her parents, whose names were Lacy, dressed herself in man's apparel, and went down to Chatham, where the carpenter of the Sandwich man of war took her for his servant, with whom she assumed the name of William Chandler. After living some time in this capacity, she bound herself apprentice to a shipwright, served the whole term, and worked at the business two years afterwards; and during this long period no suspicion was had, or discovery of her sex made, notwithstanding the many surprising incidents, illnesses, and hair breadth escapes that attended her. The above-said person, who is now her husband, worked with her a considerable time in the yard, and observed that she always regularly went through, though sometimes with great difficulty and fatigue, her stated day's labour with the rest of the men. Her obliging carriage in each of the before-named stations, engaged the esteem of every one, particularly of her fellow workman, who married her soon after it could be no longer concealed that she was a woman, from a wound she received in her thigh.---The Board of Admiralty, on hearing her extraordinary story, were pleased to allow her a pension of 20l. a year.

NEW-LONDON, August 20.

Extract of a letter from Grandterre, in Guadaloup, to a gentleman in this place, dated June 5th, 1773.

"The French King has suppressed all the convents in these islands,--there is a Bishop arrived at Martinique for that and this island; his vicar general is to reside at Basseterre; all parishes are to be served with secular clergy: The visible effects of the different orders have been sequestered or rather seized for account of the King. I saw the ceremony for this parish, here, four days ago: The fathers that chuse to go to France, and remain in their convents, are to be transported at the expence of his Majesty, and have 300 Livres Tournois pension. By what I can learn, they are to receive no more new brethren; so that they must soon moulder away. It is thought the secular clergy will be allowed to marry, and that the Gallican church will be governed in much the same manner as that of England. This is a great stroke on Popery: I wish they may go on till they leave the Holy Father no more than a good Bishoprick."

NEW-YORK, August 30.

On Tuesday last his Excellency our Governor, arrived in perfect health from Quebec, and was saluted with the discharge of cannon from the battery.

We are assured, that Mr. Sauthier and Mr. Collins were to set out from Quebec, the second week in this month, in order to complete the line of partition of New-York and Quebec governments, between the rivers Connecticut and St. Lawrence, in the 45th degree of North latitude.

September 2. Tuesday afternoon arr[illegible]
Lady who rides here[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
name of Sarah [illegible]
a lady of quality, with manners of the most [illegible]
the ladies upon the variety of their pretensions, and made some impressions on many who converse with her, as she is very remarkably done in the southern provinces.

Yesterday evening we had a very heavy hail storm; some of the stones weighed two ounces, and almost filled a wine glass.

On Tuesday evening arrived the brig Jamaica, Captain James Farquhar, from Savannah Le Mar, in Jamaica.---Just before his departure from thence, an express arrived there on the way to Kingston, to solicit assistance against the rebellious negroes at Honduras, who were murthering and destroying every person and thing in their way.

Extract of a letter from the Bay of Honduras, to a gentleman in Philadelphia, dated July 3d, 1773.

"I am desired by Mrs. Deakin to acquaint you of the death of her husband, who was most cruelly murdered in bed, in the night of the 26th ult. by a gang of disaffected negroes, who rose against the white people, and committed several most barbarous murders, and still continue in open rebellion, notwithstanding every possible endeavour has been used to suppress them."

September 6. Friday last his Excellency the Governor, attended by his Majesty's Council, the Mayor, Trustees, and a number of respectable gentlemen, went in procession to the place intended for the erection of an hospital in this city; his Excellency laid the first foundation stone in the south-east corner; each gentleman, according to seniority, laid a stone, and made liberal presents to the workmen.

We are well informed, that Mr. B. Romans, the publisher of the new maps of the ceded countries, is nominated King's Botanist for the Florida's with a handsome appointment.

September 9. The following is a more particular account than has been hitherto given out of the proceedings of a special court of oyer and terminer, holden at Morris-Town, in New-Jersey, for the discovery and trial of the persons concerned in counterfeiting the paper currency of New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New-York.

Samuel Ford and John King having escaped fom goal, made it extremely difficult to discover their accomplices. The court opened on Tuesday, August 21th, and it was the Friday following before the least intimation could be got of any person concerned, when one of them, who lay under the censure of three convictions, the one for aiding Ford and King in their escape, and the other for high misdemeanours, on being hard pushed, and in order to mitigate his punishment for these crimes, began to make a confession; this soon alarmed another of the accomplices, who made an ample and full confession.

By which confessions, and those of the persons afterwards apprehended, these facts appeared: That Ford has been in the business of money-making many years; that in the year 1767, or 1768, he followed it in New-York, but was apprehended on suspicion of making money, and admitted to bail, and even then set about preparing materials to renew the business; that he soon removed back into this country, where he again entered into it, and made a connection in Philadelphia, with a certain Capt. Joseph Richardson, from whom he got a supply of types; he then attempted the New-York emission of Three Pound Bills, and made a considerable sum, but complained of the thinness of the paper, and the bad credit of the currency, at least in this and the neighbouring provinces, and gave a preference to the Jersey currency; but it is thought did little at it till the Pennsylvania emission of 1769, came out, when he, with Captain Richardson, went to Ireland, and from thence to London and the manufacturing towns; and Ford applied himself to learn the business of an engraver and type-makeer, and from his knowledge before in the art of carving, and an uncommon natural genius, he, in the course of three months, became so perfect a master of the business, that on his return to America, he made all his types for his press, and in so masterly a manner, that the imitation of the Jersey and Pennsylvania bills, which were struck by them of 3 l. and 30 s. is so exact, that the difference cannot be discovered without the most strict examination of a person well acquainted with the true bills. From the time of his return till he was apprehended, he went on with uninterrupted success, and emitted large sums of the Jersey and Pennsylvania currency; but principally of the latter for these two years past, and was the less apprehensive of being detected for the following reasons: 1st, His bills had stood the test of the several Treasurers examinations, and had had their sanction, which he ever made an invariable rule to secure before he passed any of his new emissions. 2dly, His Press and all his implements were in an almost impenetrable swamp, at a mile's distance from his house, and in which the water most part of the year, was half leg deep, so that no person could take him, and he must crawl on his belly some rods before he could reach it. 3dly, As no person, except King and Richardson, knew where he did work, or had ever seen the place, and these, and all others concerned, were sworn to secrecy. He used to go to his work at day-light in the morning, with his gun, so that no person could suspect him. Ford was called "The Treasurer for the three Provinces." He signed his own Bills. By direction of the Court a number of persons went into the swamp in search of his types, &c. but found only his press, and a leather that covered the bills when they were struck, on which was the impression of a Pennsylvania bill of 3 l. of the emission of 1769.

Upon these facts the following persons (who were only concerned as passers of the money, except Reynolds, who procured some types for Ford) to wit, Benjamin Cooper, Esq; Doctor Bern. Bud, Samuel Haynes, and David Reynolds, were indicted and pleaded guilty to their several indictments, and on the nineteenth they received sentence of death, to be executed the seventeenth of September next. Few scenes were ever more truly affecting than the one in the Court-house, at the time of sentence passing. These four persons were remarkably handsome fine looking men, three of them about thirty, the other forty, they are all married and have children. All are descendants from the first families in the province, and all have parents living, and numerous relations. The attendance of their relations and friends added much to the solemnity of it, so much so, that it is better conceived than described. Among a thousand people there was scarce a dry eye. The spectators were more sensibly affected for those unhappy persons, as it appeared they had been drawn into it by the art, cunning and persuasion of that villain Ford. These were all the persons apprehended for capital crimes, except Justice Ayres, whose crime was committed in Sussex county, it appeared that he had not been in the practice for some time past, and if any judgment can be formed of his repentance, by his conduct and carriage, it was sincere before he was suspected, as his life had lately been so exemplary, that the congregation to which he belonged, had promoted him to the rank of deacon, and the parson was so fully convinced of his innocence, that on the Sunday after his commitment, he prayed for his protection from false accusers, and the Sunday following a report prevailed that he was released, when the parson returned thanks for it; but alas! before the next Sunday, certain accounts were received that he had confessed his crime.

During these enquiries, sufficient evidence appeared to convince every one present, that Ford was one of the persons that robbed the Treasury of New-Jersey some years since, both from his own confession to one of the convicts, who declared it on oath, as also from many other circumstances. From this account of Ford, the public must view him in the light of the most accomplished villain that this country ever produced, and it is hoped it will stimulate every well-wisher to the community throughout the continent, to be watchful for, and active in, apprehending [illegible] especially when they have the promise of five hundred [illegible] Governor of Pennsylvania, for convicting the [illegible] the paper currency of that province, [illegible] Advices from West-Florida, it is said, that the Seat of Government is to be removed to the Mississippi, and that a new Custom-House is certainly founded at Monchack, where it is thought, a Regiment will be stationed. The Tribe of Arkansas, and some other Indians, who had removed to the Western Side of the Mississippi, being dissatisfied with the Spaniards, are returned to the British Territory.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed John Posug, Esq; to be Storekeeper of his Majesty's Ordnance and Stores in this Province, also to be Barrack-master and Overseer of the Barracks in this Town, for the Accommodation of his Majesty's Troops in this Province; and Mr. John Stevenson to be Captain of the Watch-Company in Charles-Town; both in the Room of Mr. Richard Barnet.

Last Wednesday the notorious Joseph Prine, died in the Goal in this Town. A few Months ago, in Georgia, he was convicted of Horse-stealing, and condemned to be hanged, but had Art enough to work so much on the Humanity of several Gentlemen there, that the Commons House of Assembly applied in his Favour to the Governor, who thereupon granted him a Pardon, and directed that he should remain in Goal till an Opportunity offered for conveying him beyond Seas; but about five Weeks ago, being tired of waiting for such an Opportunity, he contrived to break the Goal of Savannah, and with two Dutchman committed for Felony, got clear off. He was no sooner at Liberty than he got into this Province, and about a Fortnight ago was taken up for a Robbery, sent to this Town, and committed to Goal, to take his Trial at the next Assizes, but was soon after seized with a Fever, which carried him off.

Yesterday his Majesty's Packet-Boat Le Despencer, Captain William Pond, arrived here in 8 Weeks from Falmouth.

This Morning the Diligence Packet, Captain Clark, arrived here from Pensacola, with whom came Passenger Charles Stuart, Esq; Deputy-Superintendant of Indian Affairs for that Place.

The Public are cautioned to beware of counterfeit Cob Doubloons, as they are now circulating here, which are not easily known, being full Weight, and look nearly as well as the good Ones.

MARRIED.] Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, Esq; to the amiable Miss Sarah Middleton, Daughter of the Honourable Henry Middleton, Esq.

This pleaſant Cordial and enlivening Medicine, is good againſt all Nervous Diſorders, Fits, Head-Achs, Weakneſs, Heavineſs, and Lowneſs of Spirits, Dimneſs of the Sight, Vapours and Melancholy, all Kinds of Convulſions, and Hyſteric Complaints, Epilepſies, as alſo againſt the Sickneſs of the Stomach, and Flatulencies, Obſtructions, and the Convulſive Aſthma, &c. The proper Uſe in all the above Caſes, may be ſeen in the Directions given with each Bottle.

ESSENCE of BALM of GILEAD, a grand Reſtorative of decayed Nature, good in all Seminal Weakneſſes, Hypochondriacal and Nervous Diſorders, with the Variety of Symptoms which indicates a weak and infirm Conſtitution.

Its cordial and balmy Quality, renders it alſo an agreeable palatable Liquor, and prodigiouſly refreſhing in the ſultry Heat of Summer; preventing thoſe Sinkings which over-power the Spirits in hot Weather. The proper Uſe of this noble Medicine may be ſeen in the Directions.

Dr. BOERHAAVE's GRAND BALSAM of HEALTH. An admirable Remedy for the Dry Belly-Ach, Cholic, Griping in the Bowels, Pain in the Stomach; it cleanſes the Stomach, and procures an Appetite.

Dr. RYAN's Incomparable WORM-DESTROYING SUGAR PLUMBS.

Where alſo may be had,

JOYCE's GREAT AMERICAN BALSAM, extracted from the beſt Medicinal Herbs, &c. for the Cure of the following Diſorders incident to human Nature; proved from Experience in New-York, Long-Iſland, and elſewhere, to equal, or rather exceed any Balſam, Eſſence, or Elixir, &c. exported from Europe here, for the ſeveral Diſorders hereafter mentioned.

For common green or freſh Wounds, it heals at once or twice dreſſing, by cloſing the Lips of the Wound, and laying on the Wound a Pledgit of Lint dipt in the Balſam. In Nervous Wounds, where the Blood Veſſels are divided, &c. it ſtops the Blood immediately, and heals by a few Applications. For the Cure of the moſt inveterate Ulcers, only waſh them and keep them clean, uſing firſt if there be any proud Fleſh, a common Cauſtick, to take the Excreſcence away, then apply the Balſam on Lint. If the Ulcers ſhould happen to be fiſtulous, inject by a Syringe, and after cloſe the Orifice with a Pledgit dipt in the Balſam, and ſo repeat. There are Witneſſes undeniable of the Balſam alone curing a Fiſtula in Ano, now preſent in New-York: The Author of this Balſam, (under God) will engage to cure a Fiſtula in Ano, even if the Rectum is perforated, without Inciſion, except as much by a Lancet to make Way for Injection, and no more. For the Cure of Colds, attended with violent Coughing, Pains in the Breaſt, Inflammation in the Throat and Glands, difficulty of Breathing, being obſtructed by tough viſcid Phlegm; by taking a Tea Spoonful of the Balſam, mixed with Sugar or Honey, it quickly cures, taken twice a Day, Morning faſting, and at Night going to Bed. It is exceeding good in all Manner of Swellings; for violent Falls or inward Bruiſes, nothing is better, for it ſcatters coagulated Blood, and ſtops Blood that might be occaſioned by the inward Parts being hurt, or a Rexis of Veſſels inwardly. In the Cure of a Pleuriſy, after Bleeding (where it is required) give a Tea Spoonful three Times a Day, in Sugar, and between Times now and then 20 or 30 Drops of ſpirituous Nitri dulcis, that is the ſweet Spirits of Nitre.—It cures Conſumptions in them that are not too far gone, except they paſs the Age of Fifty, by taking of it inwardly three Times a Day, a full Tea Spoonful mixt with Sugar or Honey, each Doſe. It ſtrengthens the Nerves, and is good in all Nervous Diſorders, by taking of it inwardly, and anointing the Parts outwardly, keeping warm.
